

TBA offers comprehensive expertise in all aspects of planning, design, and construction administration of correctional facilities, jails, houses of correction, and police facilities. Our experience extends to ancillary operations as well, including forensic laboratories, training centers and emergency operations centers.

We have worked with federal, state, county and local departments. Our services include project planning, architecture and engineering design, and post-occupancy services. Project planning is broken down into Diagnosis, Physical and Operations Planning, and Site Selection. Architecture and Engineering involves detailed programming, complete design services, coordination and preparation of construction documents, on-site representation and contract administration. Post occupancy Services include warranty administration, purchasing support, and availability as "House Doctors" to assure Sheriffs Departments and state Correctional Departments with solutions to operational and/or facility problems.

We believe that our ongoing relationships with operators, from project planning to post occupancy, assures line agencies with practical, state-of-the-art know-how.
